with Betty Allen...

Today's treat for Round Town readers is "Today's Fairy Tale" which appeared mysteriously with the Kiwanis weekly bulletin. We guarantee you'll chuckle over it and personally we think it makes quite a DENT in our column.

TODAY'S FAIRY TALE

Once upon a time long ago in the ancient kingdom of Scandinavia, five young men set out into the world to seek adventure and make their fortunes. Since surnames were not in common use in those days, they were denoted by their fathers' names as CARLSON, BENSON, DAVISON, and the two sons of Nels, NELSON.

Being devout young men, before setting out upon their journey, the five youths made a pilgrimage to the cathedral to seek the blessing of the BISHOP on behalf of their adventurous undertaking. This eminent divine, upon being told that they were leaving the kingdom, pronounced in a loud and solemn tone, "Ray!"

After receiving this profound and inspiring benediction, the youths set out through a FIELD of barley, which CARLSON, who was addicted to spoonerisms, having been born with a silver spoon in his mouth, referred to as a bield of FARLEY. Farley or barley, the ripe golden heads of grain were NODDIN drowsily in the late afternoon breeze as the boys trudged on into the brilliant rays of the setting sun. On and on into the night they walked until they became weary and the adventure was beginning to PAUL on them. Just then they came upon a railroad which was known in those days as the AC, CP and DH, and which later became the well-known Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe.

The boys hopped on a passing freight and after riding for WEEKS through the lovely countryside, they came at last to the end of the line, in the wonderful and bewildering land of OHNITSOGA, which when spelled backwards signifies "hard wear" in the solloquial langnage of that strange country.

The boys could not get into the town immediately because the king HEDEGARD posted guards at the city gates to check the credentials of all strangers. One of the travelers was quite annoyed at this inconvenience and said to the man, "How can people LEVENBERGS like this, BUD?" The guard, whose name they learned to be Mortimer, ignored this derogatory inquiry, saying that no happier group of people was to be found anywhere in all the land, but one of NELSONS was heard to remark, "PURMORT".

The young adventurers finally convinced the gatekeeper that he should admit them, but as they passed through he muttered, "I wouldn't trust dose guys any farther than I can TROWBRIDGE." From his crude speech you can see what an ill-bred fellow he was, but, OSBORNE out by later events, his suspicions were well founded.

After gaining admission to the town the boys sought an audience with the king for they had heard that he possessed a wonderful fowl that yielded golden eggs and they wished to see his HENLEY.

They soon cage to the king's palace and, being simple country boys, were amazed by its splendor. It was inded a TONY place. (It seems that the king had won the beautiful palace from his cousin, the DUKE, in a FERRO game.)

The Campbell Press To Celebrate 50th Anniversary Next Week

Next week close observers will find a change in the volume number of The Campbell Press. It will change from volume number 45 to volume number 50. This five years was lost through error sometime during the long history of the paper. The oldest copy found in our files is dated Friday, June 7, 1895, which makes Campbell's paper 50 years old this year.

"Campbell Weekly Visitor", as the paper was called at its inception, was published by Blaine and Hurlbert and edited by Frank A. Blaine. The front page contained pictures of Campbell which bear no resemblance to the Campbell of today.

A history of Benjamin Campbell who settled on his homestead here in 1851 was given and the story of his vision of a town told. When the railroad was built in 1879 or 1880 a flag station was established and by 1885 the population had so increased that a postoffice was necessary. Stores and dwellings sprang up and Campbell became "known far and near as a thriving village."

By means of restrictions in the deeds, Benjamin Campbell, planning from the very first to keep the "rougher element" from settling in the town, made it practically impossible for anyone to start a saloon on any property of his even after it had passed from his hands. By 1895, there were no saloons within 3 or 4 miles of the town, and the town possessed a good school system, two churches, a Young Men's Christian Association, a public library and was giving birth to a newspaper destined to live for at least 50 years.

Benjamin Campbell, quoted from the 1895 Old Settlers' Day program, told of arriving in the Santa Clara Valley in 1846 when our country was at war with Mexico and of the hazards under which they lived until peace was made.

The editor gave descriptions and brief histories of the business houses in Campbell and advocated the construction of some new streets, the erection of a bandstand and the setting aside of some ground for a park.

Mr. Blaine's initial editorial states that the Campbell Weekly Visitor was started in response to a desire on the part of many citizens for a newspaper as a means of bringing questions of public interest before the people and securing a union of forces in making improvements. Mr. Blaine continues: "Everything which tends toward the upbuilding of the community or the general welfare of the town will receive our hearty support. Whatever tends to lower public morals or bring a degrading influence over the individual will receive our condemnation. The success of our efforts depends largely on the support given us by those who are with us in the desire to make and keep Campbell one of the cleanest as well as most enterprising towns in California."

The Campbell Press hopes to have a small exhibit of this paper and other historical papers of interest to the people of Campbell in the near future.

Both the High school and the Elementary school will be closed all of next week for the Thanksgiving holidays. During the first part of the week the teaching staff will attend the regular annual county institute which will be held on Monday at the Civic Auditorium in San Jose and in the Santa Clara High school on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Many Campbell members of the University of California Club of Santa Clara County are planning on attending the informal big game dinner of the club to be held Tuesday evening, Nov. 20, at Milvini's restaurant in San Jose. Al Ruffo, assistant to Buck Shaw, University of California football coach, will show movies of 1945 games.

Fire Destroys Smith Home

In a spectacular fire just after nightfall last night the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Smith, corner of Virginia and San Tomas road, was completely destroyed by flames. The blaze was visible as far as Burbank and a huge crowd collected around the blazing house to watch the flames and smoke soar high in the air. Sparks from the fire fell in showers on the watchers who dazedly saw the walls fall and stayed until nothing was left but the chimney standing gauntly among the ruins.

The fire is believed to have begun in the attic and was too far advanced at the time of discovery for the house to be saved. Neighbors and friends carried as much of the Smiths' possessions as possible into the adjoining orchard where the light cast by the fire fell on tables, chairs, beds and dressers. Later the furniture, bedding and clothes were loaded into trucks with all the neighbors helping.

Since the location of the blaze was outside of both the Campbell and Los Gatos districts and no water was available neither of those companies was called to the fire but the State Forestry fire truck from Alma responded and kept the flames from spreading to the outbuildings.

No information as to the cause of the holocaust is as yet available.

Capt. Harold Drummond, now on terminal leave awaiting his discharge from the Army, has returned to his home on Carlyn Ave. where his wife and son, Harold Drummond Jr., have been living during his 18 months overseas. Drummond served with the Military Police Guard in the European theater and was awarded a bronze battle star. Before entering the service he taught at the Campbell High school and expects to return to his profession soon.

Soil Conservation Expert Speaks

Tuesday's Kiwanis luncheon featured Vince Stolte Garrod, Saratoga, who is president of the Black Mountain Soil Conservation District and also secretary of the County Soil Conservation District. Garrod spoke of the necessity of conservation throughout the world and of methods now being used in the United States to stop the menace of increasing soil erosion. Among the three types of soil erosion is stream erosion which is especially noticeable in the Campbell area along the Los Gatos creek.

Joe Gomes was chairman for the meeting and visitors included Capt. Harold Drummond, recently returned from overseas, Floyd Willson, Dave Wilson and Walt Edwards of the San Jose Kiwanis club. The Rev. Lawrence Osborne will be chairman for next week's inter-club meeting with Mountain View at which time Roger Darling of San Jose will speak on Thanksgiving.

Kiwanis members are interested in the radio program, "Town Meeting of the Air", to be heard tonight over Station KGO at 8:30, for Hamilton Holt, president of Kiwanis International, will take the affirmative in the debate, "Should the Armed Forces Be United Under One Head?"

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Whipple are Campbell newcomers who have purchased the Mekeson's house at 22 Railroad Ave. Formerly they lived at 15 Pecon Way in the Hazelwod Tract. Mr. Whipple is a Spanish-American War veteran.

Campbell Man Promoted

James Gardner, USN.

James Gardner, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. Gardner, Hamilton Ave., has recently been promoted to Chief Petty Officer at Kaneohe Bay, naval base near Pearl Harbor. He has been in the service for four years and 16 months of that time has been spent in the Hawaiian Islands.

His wife, the former Eileen Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Miller, Dillon Ave., has been living at the home of her parents during her navy husband's absence and is employed at a San Jose beauty salon.

Gardner, who attended school in Campbell, hopes to return home shortly after the first of the year, but if this is not possible his wife will be allowed to join him at Kaneohe Bay and is busy making plans "just in case".

Former Minister Writes Letter

Jack Murdock has received a letter from the Rev. Don Baldwin, former minister of the Methodist church here, in which he says he is enjoying Kiwanis activities in a town named Morristown, just 7 miles from Mendham where the Baldwins now live.

He says: "Our little town and country community is in a beautiful section of New Jersey, just 40 miles west of New York City. It is easy to get there, so we have "been to town" about a half-a-dozen times since we arrived here two months ago. I couldn't resist the opportunity and went to see the welcome for General Wainwright and must confess to a genuine thrill to be there to see this great spirited man, who, in spite of his treatment as a prisoner, harbors no desire for retaliation in brutality upon his captors, though he does advocate severity and stern discipline. The ticker tape came down to the tune of several hundred tons that day and it was a great sight.

"Last week, on Navy Day, I took Donald and Frank with me and went in to see President Truman. We had a fine vantage point and I should have several good pictures of the occasion. We saw the ships in the harbor, went to the top of the Empire State building and got into the worst subway crowds New York has ever had.

"I follow the news of Campbell in The Campbell Press and whenever anyone breaks into print I see it there. Best wishes to everyone.

"Sincerely,
DON BALDWIN."

Two days before the final day of the War Chest drive, which ends today, Campbell went over its quota with three other Santa Clara County communities: Los Gatos, Morgan Hill and Saratoga. Under the leadership of Herbert M. Shadle, Campbell residents have made a total contribution of $6833.

Victory Loan "E" Quota Moves Slowly

Guy Farley, chairman of the Victory Loan drive, reports that the total for E Bond purchases has reached $12,400, which is approximately 22% of the quota set for this district in E Bonds.

"An E Bond will solve your Christmas shopping problems," Farley suggests. He also said that the total is expected to rise rapidly as more districts and workers report.

Northern California's quota is $281,000,000, of which $132,000,000 must come from the pockets of individuals. Thousands of volunteer workers are selling bonds all over the country to raise the 11 billion needed by the government to finance the cost of the war, to bring servicemen home, to care for the wounded and to maintain our armies of occupation

Churches Unite For Services

Campbell churches will unite in a community Thanksgiving service at the Congregational church on Thanksgiving Day at 10 a. m. All Campbell churches are being invited to participate in the service with the Rev. Robert Carlson, Congregational minister, in charge of the arrangements.

The Rev. Lawrence J. Osborne, minister of the Methodist church, will preach on "The Spirit of Thanksgiving", and a joint choir, comprised of members of the Congregational and Methodist choirs, will sing under the direction of Mrs. Rex Fuller, Congregational choir director.

This is the first time in many years that such a service has been held.

Philip Glen Nelson, radioman, second class, USN, 57 Dillon Ave., played an important role in the operations of Fleet Air Wing One during the final phases of the war when that fleet unit piled up a record that is now being released by the Navy.

From Korea to China and Formosa—even to Japan itself—the air wing helped keep the Japs in confusion while other fleet units pounded the enemy from Okinawa to Tokyo, and while her own planes teamed up with Army airmen to rain destruction on her homeland.

New Babies Welcomed

Arriving within a day of each other, two new babies are being welcomed in Campbell. The first, Barbara Dee Bagby, baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delos Bagby, arrived Nov. 7. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Stutzman of Pacific Grove, and Mrs. C. E. Basford of Palo Alto. Barbara Dee's father is principal of the Cambrian school.

The second to arrive was Pvt. and Mrs. Harvey Sheeder's son, Bill, born at the San Jose Hospital Nov. 8. The baby's father is on leave from Camp Roberts. Little Bill's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Ballot of Campbell and Mrs. Harvey M. Sheeder of Shalix, Pa. The baby, who is the Sheeder's second child, was born the 11th minute of the 11th hour of the 11th month.

Guy Farley, member of Selective Service Board 111, announces that the board which was previously located in the Bank of America building in Santa Clara has been moved to the 10th floor of the Commercial building in San Jose.

Mr. and Mrs. Werner Raab, accompanied by Mr. Raab's mother, Mrs. Flora Raab, members of the Orchard City Grange, spent Thursday, Nov. 8, in Santa Cruz, attending the State Grange convention.

Bucs To Play Santa Clara

Despite starting the current season with only one member of last year's regulars, the Campbell High varsity football team is still in the running for the league crown. There are two games left on the locals' schedule but they are against two of the weaker teams of the circuit—Santa Clara and Gilroy. If the Bucs hurdle those two outfits they are assured of nothing worse than second place, the Los Gatos-Washington game determining the final position of the top teams.

This Friday will find the Buc varsity playing an important league engagement with Santa Clara Hi at Townsend Field, Santa Clara, at 8:00 p. m.

This has been a hectic season from the injury standpoint for Campbell. The first loss was a very promising sophomore end, Reg Gazay, whose broken leg has benched him for the season. The other left end, Lowell Grattan, has a bad knee and may not play much this week. One of the most costly accidents came to Dick Gouley when he received a broken cheek bone and probably will not play any more this season. Dick is the Bucs' leading scorer and was one of the league's best defensive men as well. Bill Underwood, fullback, and Ralph McKee, center, have painful but less severe injuries and should be able to play at least part of the time this week. They were sorely missed in last week's game with Bellarmine.

Billy Hill, guard, has been one of the outstanding players of the league this season. Orville Gunsaulis, rugged left half, is one of Campbell's leading ground-gainers. He has scored two touchdowns this season and is expected to be at his best this week.

Others who have played impressively this year are Mac Martin, Merv Nelson, Allen Miller, Dick Orlandi, Dewey Kosich, and Ed Bersano on the line, and Wayne Buck, George Gleed, and Dick Cotta in the backfield.

N. D. Malone Serves In Navy

N. D. Malone, boatswain's mate, second class, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Malone, Kennedy Ave., is serving aboard the light cruiser USS Birminghom which has built up a record of 138,800 miles of sea travel, during which she took part in most of the Pacific campaigns, before she was assigned to the duty of bringing veterans home. The Birmingham saw action in both theaters of operation, including the Sicilian occupation, Tarawa, Wake, the Treasury Islands, Marianas, western Carolines, Leyte, Iwo Jima and Okinawa.

The young navy man who attended Campbell High school has served in the Navy for three years. His brother, James C. Malone, who is awaiting his Army discharge, is now home in Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. Les Wheeler have as their guests Mrs. Wheeler's mother, Mrs. Nina Zug of Willets who is here indefinitely, and Mrs. Wheeler's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Green and their small daughter also of Willets who are visiting in Campbell for a week. Weekend guests were Mr. Wheeler's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Wheeler and son of Stockton and Mrs. Wheeler's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Zug and their two children of Pacific Grove.

In honor of their mother, Mrs. Wheeler and Mrs. Green are entertaining with a tea and handkerchief shower today at Mrs. Wheeler's home on First St.

The Horizon Club is sponsoring a card party at the Women's Club on Monday evening, Nov. 19, at 8 p. m. with prizes and refreshments.

All of Campbell is sympathizing with the parents of Thora Chamberlain, missing Campbell High school girl. Such grief and anxiety as they are experiencing cannot help but touch all parents, Thora's schoolmates and teachers, and even police officers who are accustomed to deal with like problems.

Those who take seriously their civic responsibility feel that if the girl was forcibly abducted it will call for better protection for our young people in the future.

To aid in the putting together of all small bits of information, any person with any clues concerning the disappearance, no matter how insignificant appearing, is urged to give that information to the proper authorities.

Guest Editorial

By PAT RALSTON

In this great country of ours, there is a day set aside, that is celebrated by one and all—Thanksgiving Day! For the first time in many years, Thanksgiving brings on a new significance—the thanks given unto God for the peace and serenity that has been brought to our country.

Thanksgiving should not be given only on the last Thursday of November, but on each and every day of the year. There are so many, many, things we have to be thankful for, that they cannot be expressed in a single prayer. Just think—we live in a land of plenty, a land of the free, and the home of the brave, in a world of new and greater things, which are happening every day. We also have the knowledge, which of course is upper-most in our minds, that our boys, wherever they may be, are safe, and will soon be home to enjoy the traditional Thanksgiving dinner—turkey, sweet potatoes, cranberry sauce, and pumpkin pie.

Yes, this year, more than ever before, we should thank God for the blessings he has bestowed upon us—for what are we but humble creatures that reap in the blessings of peace, equality, and fraternity for all?

Washington MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

DEPARTMENT OF PEACE

WASHINGTON.—This columist recently proposed that we begin thinking a little more about the Sermon on the Mount in our international relations, and among other things establish a Department of Peace.

It was suggested that along-with the Department of War and the Navy Department, we set up as our first line of defense a Department of Peace to promote the idea that the only alternative to the atom bomb is to teach the world and ourselves that we must get along with aech other.

One aftermath of this idea is significant. It occurred in the appropriations committee of the House of Representatives the other day when its members voted appropriations for the State Department.

It happens that the nearest thing we have to a Department of Peace is the Department of State. That organization is by no means perfect, and might not be ideal to operate a Department of Peace. But its new chief, Jimmy Byrnes, has some good ideas and is working hard to establish new bureaus for spreading goodwill and helping peace.

He is trying to carry on the ideas of the Office of War information which furnished propaganda to newspapers, aimed toward a better understanding of the USA. Byrnes is also trying to raise salaries. For years State Department officials have struggled along on starvation wages. This is partly the fault of the wealthy career clique which wanted to keep wages low and thus operate a closed shop for themselves. So Secretary of State Byrnes is trying to raise diplomatic wages as the first step toward having alert diplomats guard the peace front.

However, when Byrnes' appropriation bill got up before his old friends in Congress the other day, the House appropriations committee slashed it to ribbons. They particularly cut the new agencies patterned on the general idea of a Department of Peace.

MRS. ROOSEVELT'S TRAVELS

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt will soon be off on another globe-girdling tour designed to help international relations. This time Mrs. Roosevelt plans to visit Russia as well as other war-ravaged nations in Europe.

In recent weeks, she has been taking a more vocal, outspoken position on public issues. Although she denied having blasted Secretary of State Byrnes publicly for his handling of the foreign minister conference, Mrs. Roosevelt has been very sharp in private conversations about the way Truman and Byrnes have been rocking the ship of state, especially when it comes to foreign affairs.

Mrs. Roosevelt claims age is creeping up on her, but to an outside observer she gives no evidence of slowing down. She is now almost as active as she was before her husband's death—certainly still the most forthright lady ever to live in the White House.

WHY MEN LEAVE NAVY

Worried about the failure of men and officers to remain in the navy, Secretary of the Navy Forrestal recently put out an order to naval separation centers to interview the next 100 reserve officers who came up for discharge. The result showed bitter resentment on the part of reserve officers against the Annapolis clique. Here are some typical interviews quoted verbatim:

"The only reason I would join the navy again would be if I were starving."

"I think the officers of the regular navy are grasping, pushing and self-centered."

"The attitude of the majority of Annapolis officers to reservists is that they are to be endured only for the time being."

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Judge Samuel Rosenman, one of Franklin Roosevelt's closest friends, has become a staunch defender of Mississippi's George Allen, who holds a similar position with Harry Truman. To his skeptical New Deal friends, Judge Rosenman protests, "But George is a liberal." Allen, a protege of the late Senator Pat Harrison and an insurance executive, spends part of every morning with Truman going over his problems.

The White House is quietly passing the word around to newsmen not to pack their bags. There will be no more presidential junkets for quite a while. Truman got enough kidding about his journey to the Missouri county fair to last him for a long time.

OPA estimates that 700,000 veterans and their families have no place to live. Their wives and children have been living "doubled up" while the G.I.s were out fighting. Now the veterans want a home of their own and can't find it. Reports coming to me say that homeless veterans will stage a demonstration in New York City.

The House committee on un-American activities has investigated ex-Sen. Robert Reynolds' Nationalist party. But, according to Investigator George McDavitt, it found nothing wrong with this group.

Looking Back

50 Years Ago,
Nov. 9, 1895.

"Looking Back" items are taken this week from one of the few early copies of the paper in our files. Sound this week is a copy of the "Campbell Weekly Visitor" dated Saturday, Nov. 9, 1895.

It is a small, six-page sheet and on the front page are "Street Scenes in San Jose". Santa Clara street has a few buildings, and several horse-drawn buggies. The paper was at that time published by Blaine and Hurlbert with Frank A. Blaine as editor. Beneath the masthead on this 50-year-old paper is a beguiling inducement to advertisers, "the citizens of Campbell and the tributary thereto are widely known as the most prosperous and enterprising people of the banner county of the State. They are a thrifty people, not given to extravagence, but as a rule able to buy and pay for what they need."

Some of the following items were news in Campbell fifty years ago this month:

"C. Miller is building an addition to his blacksmith shop.

"Rev. Afflerbach who was injured in a runaway some time ago has so far recovered as to be about again.

"The following is the roll of honor of the Cambrian school for October: Pearl Bohnette, Clyde Betts, Archie Betts, Elena McCaughey, Grace Zonsius and Nina Black.

"Campbell Ave. has been staked out to 60-foot width and the bandstand has received a coat of paint."

In a column headed "Improvements Needed" one of the items stated "More Campbell young people to patronize the minister."

Good town lots sold for $300 or $350.

Federal Gov't. Needs Pharmacists

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced new examinations for positions as pharmacists and clinical psychologist. Because a sufficient number of eligibles cannot be obtained from among veterans entitled to reopen examinations, these examinations have been opened to the general public, and all persons who qualify may apply.

Licensed pharmacists are needed in various government agencies throughout the United States. To qualify for positions paying $2320 a year, applicants must have had at least three years of appropriate experience or must hold a bachelor's degree in pharmacy; a combination of experience and education is also acceptable. Applicants for positions paying $2980 a year must meet the above requirements and must also have had one year of experience as a drug store manager or as a pharmacist in charge of a prescription department. All applicants must pass a written test on pharmacy, chemistry, physics, and related subjects. Applications will be accepted for pharmacist positions until Dec. 3, 1945.

Clinical psychologist positions paying $2980 to $5180 a year are open in Veterans Administration and U. S. Public Health Service facilities throughout the United States. To qualify, applicants must have had appropriate college training and from one to four years of experience applying psychological principles or techniques, or teaching in the field of clinical psychology. Graduate study may be substituted for part of the experience. No written test is required, and there is no closing date for receipt of applications.

Announcements and application forms may be obtained from most first and second-class post offices, from Civil Service Regional offices, or from the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C. Applications should be sent to the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

Mrs. America is assured a better supply of canned fish on her grocer's shelves after several months of scarcity. Military requirements have been cut back, and the end of the war has opened the way for more imported canned fish . . . fancy sardines from Venezuela and some tuna from Chile and Peru, canned shellfish from Canada and sardines from Norway. The one dark spot in this otherwise bright picture is salmon. This was a bad year for salmon and production was far less than expected. But there'll still be a wide variety of canned fish from which to choose.

Clothing Drive Scheduled

Henry J. Kaiser, National Chairman of the Victory Clothing Collection for overseas relief, scheduled for January 7-31, 1946, announced today that already 1395 men and women have agreed to serve as local chairmen in their communities.

The majority of these men and women organized their communities in the successful collection of used, serviceable clothing of last spring which was also headed by Mr. Kaiser.

Wisconsin leads with 97 acceptances. Texas is second with 89 and New York third with 87.

America's spring cleaning which was done in answer to the plea "What Can You Spare That They Can Wear?" yielded enough clothing to help 25,000,000 war victims in Europe, China and the Philippines, according to UNRRA (the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration).

The goal of the Victory Clothing Collection is 100,000,000 serviceable garments in addition to shoes and bedding. Contributors are invited to attach good-will letters to their clothing gifts.

According to UNRRA and other relief agencies working overseas the 25,000,000 people assisted are only a small percentage of the destitute, homeless and looted people who are in desperate need of clothing. Conditions are such that Canada, Australia and New Zealand have been conducting clothing collections for relief of the invaded and bombed countries, and President Truman has announced that the need justifies another appeal to the people of the United States.

RENTS NOT AFFECTED BY REVOCATION OF L-41

In response to numerous inquiries that have come to the rent division of the San Francisco District Office of Price Administration because of the lifting of controls on building materials by the War Production Board, Henry A. Cross, district rent executive, explained that rent controls were still effective on all federal housing projects, whether built by private contractors or by the National Housing Authority.

"Revocation of the War Production Board's construction order L-41 will not affect rents in rent controlled areas for housing built with priorities during the war, or now under construction, and having rents that were fixed by the National Housing Agency," Cross said.

"These rents," the rent director continued, "have been accepted by the OPA as maximum legal rents and will not be affected by the lifting of the WPB order."

Mission Trails To Be Improved

With the reorganization plans of the California State Exposition Building in Los Angeles completed, it has been announced that the Mission Trails area is to benefit by greatly enlarged and improved displays in the building.

A relief map of the area, showing all of the California Missions and other important points of interest, is to be refurbished and improved; 35 MM colored slides and picturesque scenes in the area will be shown regularly and beautiful transparencies will be prominently displayed.

The new Redwood Room is built around our beautiful Big Basin Park in Santa Cruz County which is a part of the Mission Trails area and it is planned, for the future, to install a replica of one of our old California Missions.

Over 250,000 people a year visit the building and view these displays which is a very important factor in promoting travel into the Mission Trails area. Attractive special Mission Trails displays are planned for the annual Vacation Show which will be held in the buildnig in April 1946.

Cattlemen To Meet

At the quarterly meeting of the Santa Clara County Cattlemen's Association, presided over by President Jere W. Sheldon at the Hotel DeAnza, San Jose, on Oct. 27, it was decided to hold a six-county cattlemen's meeting early next year. The Santa Clara County Cattleman's Association will be host to this gathering, which was postponed this year on account of then existing O. D. T. regulations. Other counties to participate at this meeting of the industry will be the counties of San Benito, Monterey, Santa Cruz, Alameda and San Mateo. While it is too soon to announce the date, the meeting place no doubt will be Gilroy. Excellent speakers will be provided and the meeting should be a benefit to all livestock producers in the various participating counties.

The Junior Red Cross is collecting new Christmas cards to give to the Veterans' hospitals. The servicemen there will be able to send these cards to their friends at Christmas.

If your child can bring any cards or three-cent stamps please send them to school by Nov. 15.

The Cambrian Home and School Club meeting was held Thursday, Nov. 1. Dr. Gertrude Witherspoon spoke on cosmetics and the making of them. Refreshments were served by the 8th grade mothers.

"Suds In Your Eye" In San Jose Sunday, November 18th

Just as "Suds In Your Eye" convulsed its readers with laughter all over the country since it was first published three years ago, the stage version of the Lasswell opus, which plays a matinee and evening performance in the San Jose auditorium on next Sunday, Nov. 18, keeps its audience laughing continuously. "First nighters were in convulsions most of the time" wrote the Oakland Tribune, while Alexander Fried of the San Francisco Examiner declared that "Suds" was "out of this world." Coming directly from the Curran Theater where it has had a sensationally successful run, "Suds In Your Eye" shows "Mrs. Feeley", "Mis Tinkham" and "Mrs. Rasmussen" in a series of incredible dilemmas, all superbly and hilariously met.

ARMY NURSES RECEIVE 1,008 DECORATIONS

Members of the Army Nurse Corps have been awarded 1008 decorations since December 7, 1941, the Ninth Service Command surgeon announced today at Fort Douglas, Utah.

The decorations include: two Distinguished Flying Crosses, four Silver Stars, 12 Legion of Merit awards, 433 Bronze Stars, 388 Air Medals, five Soldier's Medals, 60 Purple Hearts and 103 unit citations or commendations.

The Wearer of This Emblem has Been Honorably Discharged from The Armed Forces of the United

When you see this button worn in the lapel of ones coat, you know that the wearer has been honorably discharged from the armed forces. He or she has served your country well, performed the duties required of one in the uniform of our armed forces.

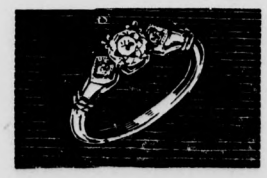

Respect the wearer of this button. Remember that if it hadn't been for the wearer, and millions more like him, you would be listening to commands given in not the English language but in Japanese. MacArthur would be receiving commands, not giving them; the list of American prisoners of war would include your name and mine. It would be our lot to suffer and not to rejoice.

The boys were met at the palace door by the lord high chamberlain who, judging from his imposing bearing and elegant robes, possessed more power than ETHAN the king. As it turned out, however, he was merely a flunkey who ran ARENDS for His Majesty. When the king was told that some foreigners wished to see his most precious possession he naturally thought they meant his daughter, LYN,DEN, he looked very GRIM.

"You may admit the best looking youth," he roared, "but see that he washes his HANSEN face and COOMBS his hair." This was rather difficult because all they had was a CURRIE comb.

They did the best they could and sent DAVISON in since he was the handsomest lad of the group. Besides he had the most SANDERS something which made him aggressive like his father, DAVE.

The king told DAVISON to be seated. "My little chick is still in school," he said, somewhat to the boy's surprise. "She'll be here' as soon as her KLASSEN MATHIS over."

The boy waited patiently and you can imagine his amazement when in walked, not a chicken of the poultry variety, but a beautiful young lady. "Now, there's a DAHL I could go for," he thought as he rose shakily to his feet, his temperature rising to 100 deg. in the SHADLE. His tongue being thickened by the force of his emotion, all he could say was, "Won't you WALSH this dance with me, fair lady?"

"Oh, thank you, kind sir, but first won't you have a piece of my KENNEDY?" she stammered, for she too was smitten by love at first sight.

The king did not approve of these going on and the lord high chamberlain, whoe name it seems was Jones, muttered, "I am a FRED for your daughter."

The king thereupon banished young DAVISON from his presence but not before the young man had whispered to the princess that he would HYDE that night in the palace courtyard and await her there.

As he rejoined his fellow travelers in the ante rom, he shouted, "Let's GOMES amis," in an excited mixture of English and French which the court attendants, never having been beyond the boundaries of their own land, were unable to comprehend.

That night the boys met the princess in the courtyard as planned and carried her off to their own country where she and DAVISON lived happily ever after.

The king was furious and called the cabinet ministers into executive session to explain why they failed to prevent the culprits' escape. The Minister of the Army said they needed MORGANS and the Minister of the Navy said they needed MURDOCKS.

The MERRILL to this story:

"When the tale is told, move to Southern California."

Navy Lifts Restrictions

The Navy has lifted its war-time restriction prohibiting members of the same family from serving together aboard the same ship or at the same station in an advance base area.

Recent instructions authorize naval training centers to transfer recruits to ships of any fleet except submarines, in which their brothers are serving. There is no assurance, however, that they can be together indefinitely. Transfer will be made upon request of the recruit, if such transfer is compatible with the needs of the service. No transfer will be made until recruit training has been completed.

Except in the cases of recruits, no transfers of personnel may be made under the new authority, but must be in accordance with current regulations regarding transfers. For example, transfers between ships in a fleet are sometimes permitted if the ships are in close proximity, subject to the current directives of the fleet command, but a transfer from a ship in the Atlantic to one in the Pacific is not normally permitted.

U. C. Plans Homecoming

Alumni and former students of the University of California will head toward the Berkeley campus for a gala Homecoming week end on Nov. 23 and 24, the first peacetime celebration at the university, announces Chairman Dick Rowson, of Beverly Hills. Highlight of the festivities will be the football game between teams representing the Berkeley and Los Angeles campuses on Saturday, Nov. 24.

On Friday, a university meeting is scheduled to welcome alumni to the campus. This will be followed by alumni receptions, at which motion pictures of "the good old days" will be shown. In the evening will be the traditional Pajamarino rally. For this special occasion, the Big "C" and the Campanile will be lighted.

The Golden Bears will meet the Bruins on Saturday in the Memorial stadium. Special card stunts are planned by the rooting sections from both schools. Topping off the two-day celebation will be the Homecoming Ball Saturday evening in the Men's gymnasium, over which the Queen of Homecoming will reign. All women's groups on campus will enter contestants for the Queen, who will be selected by judges, along with her two attendants, at a luncheon in Faculty Glade on Nov. 16.

The scene above is from "State Fair" which comes to the Campbell theater this week among other attractions. "State Fair" comes pretty close to being another "Oklahoma," only its locale is Iowa. The same music men who created the lilting "Oklahoma" songs, Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein, wrote the score for "State Fair", which is an eye-and-ear filling musical comedy based on Phil Stong's novel of Iowa farm life.

Starred in the technicolor musical are Jeanne Crain, Dana Andrews, Dick Haymes and Vivian Blaine. The beloved Charles Winninger plays the part of an Iowa farmer bent on winning the annual state fair prize for the best bred boar.

A special service pin for veterans of both World War I and World War II is suggested in letters written by Congressman Jack Z. Anderson to Secretary of War Robert Patterson and Secretary of the Navy James V. Forrestal.

The issuance of such a pin or ribbon, Anderson pointed out, would obviate the necessity of the wearing of two service buttons by men now returning to civilian life who served their country in both wars.

"If legislation is necessary to obtain the desired results," Anderson offers, "I shall be only too glad to see that it is properly introduced if the suggestions meets with your approval."

Nearly $21,000,000 worth of surplus Army snow and winter clothing and equipment soon will be made available to the public, Ninth Service Command headquarters at Fort Douglas, Utah, learned today.

Included are the following pieces of ski equipment: boots, skis, poles, goggles, bindings, repair kits, as well as knit wristlets, arctic felt shoes, ice creepers, trail snowshoes and lined trousers. Mountain and wool type sleeping bags will also be sold.

The Department of Commerce, with offices in San Francisco, Calif., and Seattle, Wash., will act as the disposal agency, as direct sales are not made by the Army.

The next regular meeting of the Country Woman's Club will be held on Monday, Nov. 19, at 2:30 p. m. Following the business meeting Mrs. H. W. Jensen and her committee will be in charge of Red Cross work. Assisting the chairman are Mesdames G. L. Husted, T. F. Rogers, M. E. Carlson and C. S. Kaneen. Members are asked to bring needle, thimble, scissors, and crochet hooks.

Stores which ship "relief packages" of food to people in foreign countries for friends or relatives may add 50 cents to the ceiling price of the package to cover extra costs of foreign delivery. On Sunday evening at 7 p. m. at the Congregational church, Charles Palmerlee, who is in charge of boys' work at the Watsonville Y. M. C. A., will address an open meeting of the Pilgrim Fellowship.

Palmerlee will speak on the Japanese relocation centers and will show his colored motion pictures of Tule Lake. For ten months Palmerlee was on the teaching staff at Tule Lake and thus can speak from first hand observation upon one of America's crucial problems—the treatment of minority groups.

The Methodist Youth Fellowship will join the Pilgrim Fellowship for the evening and the public is cordially invited.

Cleared from West Coast Army ports of embarkation to meet the requirements in the Pacific were two and one-half million troops and more than 44 million ship tons of cargo during the 45 months prior to V-J Day, it was learned at Ninth Service Command headquarters, at Fort Douglas, Utah.

Eugene W. Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Green, Casey rd., has recently received an honorable discharge from the Army after 39 months overseas as a staff sergeant in the European theater. Green took part in the Normandy invasion. A graduate of the Campbell Union High school, he was employed by the Hester Dairy before entering the service. He will leave soon to attend Georgia Tech.

American Army personnel stationed in England wrote 258,000,000 V-Mail letters to friends and relatives in the United States between June, 1942, and August, 1945, Ninth Service Command headquarters at Fort Douglas, Utah, learned today.

During those 37 months they in turn received 259,000,000 V-Mail letters from this country.

Surprising his family, Jose Saavedra, Navy coxswain, son of Mr. and Mrs. Juan S. Saavedra of Morgan Hill, arrived Tuesday evening straight from Okinawa with only a two or three hour delay in the Bay area. He served in the Navy for 19 months aboard the USS Sherburne and before entering the service was engaged in defense work for Kaiser. His wife, the former Elvira Dominguez of San Jose, and their three children, Joe, John and Mary Helen, are at present in San Bernardino.

BLACKSMITH PAIN

Pain is a blacksmith,
Hard is his hammer;
With flying flames
His hearth is hot;
A straining storm
Of forces ferocious
Blows his bellows.
He hammers hearts
And tinkers them,
With blows tremendous,
Till hard they hold.—
Well, well forges Pain.—
No storm destroys,
No frost consumes,
No rust corrodes,
What Pain has forged.
—Otto Julius Bierbaum.

Gadgets To Return Slowly

That flood of washing machines, radios, electrical devices, water buckets, garden rakes and gadgets the public has been anticipating since early in the war won't materialize in California's industry for some time, according to the number of requests by California manufacturers for OPA approval of price ceilings on new products. There was a rising volume of requests prior to V-J Day, but since then the number of such applications dropped or leveled off far below the number expected by local OPA offices.

Checking the situation, the research department of the California State Chamber of Commerce—investigating through industrial departments of local chambers of commerce, trade associations, utility firms' industrial power sales divisions and consulting management engineering firms—discovered:

1. A few manufacturers may be proceeding on the erroneous assumption that controls have been lifted on items they wish to manufacture.

2. A few manufacturers are postponing requests for OPA pricing in the hope that controls may be lifted, thus eliminating out-of-line ceilings or delays in price adjustment.

3. A substantial number of California manufacturers are revising plans for production of new items, and are postponing price ceiling applications until they obtain better information as to supply and costs of raw materials and labor. This is the major reason for delay.

4. Uncertainty over labor costs and government policy is an increasing factor in postponing price ceiling applications.

A number of firms are installing improved manufacturing equipment and processes and are retraining their labor forces for peacetime commodity production. Until transition has progressed further they will continue reassessment of cost and competition in the light of changing conditions, the survey discloses.

Difficulty in obtaining prices on sub-contracts for parts, inability to obtain essential components and shortages of critical materials and labor are other factors be-deviling the manufacturers.

"Manufacturers hesitate to offer goods for future delivery under a fixed price ceiling, in view of increasing uncertainties as to government policy permitting a readjustment of such price—once it has been fixed—to compensate for increased wage levels," the survey states. "They feel they would be in a safer position to apply for a ceiling on new products after the labor cost question has been determined, rather than before."

Recent check at OPA offices in San Francisco and Los Angeles show a gradual increase in pricing applications in October, but the volume still is far below anticipation.

Native Daughters Visit Orphanage

Until this year the Central Committee, made up of representatives of these two pioneer organizations of native-born California men and women, has financed the homeless children work entirely within the memberships of the Native Sons and Native Daughters. This year, due to wartime conditions such as increased child care costs and the increased demands for homes for homeless children, the Central Committee is appealing to the general public for financial assistance in this meritorious work which is licensed by the State of California. A statewide campaign has been launched to raise needed funds through the sale of "Homeless Babies" stamps, and Parlors of the Native Daughters of the Golden West in both Santa Clara and San Mateo Counties are actively engaged in assisting the movement.

Vets Offered Old Rank If They Enlist

Honorably discharged veterans have only a handful of days to return to the new peacetime army with the same grade held when discharge, according to the local army recruiting authorities.

The deadline set by the War Department as November 21, 1945, for army veterans now in civilian life has already attracted hundreds of former G. I.'s within the Northern California district. Many of the veterans discharged since the army began its vast demobilization program have lost little time in returning to army life. And within the next several days, hundreds more are expected to reenlist in the new army.

While retaining of rank is one of the highlights offered as an inducement to veterans, the many opportunities and advantages which may be gained are the most liberal ever offered during the entire history of Uncle Sam's army.

Men entering the army now, whether veterans or never in the service before, may choose their branch of service and foreign or domestic assignment by enlisting for a three-year period. However, enlistments are also open for 18 months and two years. A handsome 20-year retirement plan is also offered.

Veterans are also entitled to reenlistment bonus and up to 90 days furlough, if re-enlistment is affected before three months have elapsed after discharge. However, the opportunities of retaining rank, and for enlistment furlough and bonus, will cease on November 21, 1945. After that date, veterans will have only 20 days to re-enlist to retain their privileges. And after February 1, 1946, it will be only 24 hours.

By its recent appropriation of $1000 to the industrial promotion fund, Los Gatos City Council has given tangible proof of unity and support of the program bringing Santa Clara County into the national industrial spotlight. Chairman Alvin Long of the San Jose Chamber's industrial committee and other local leaders have voiced hearty appreciation of the Los Gatos action and have expressed the hope it will set the pace for other communities in the county. Such demonstrations of county-wide unity greatly strengthens the program.

Pork Shortage Explained

The almost uninterrupted decline in hog processing volume, which set in early this year, continued during September and federally inspected kill dropped to 1,921,751 head, lowest point for any month since August, 1937, and smallest total for the month since 1935 when hog numbers were held down by drought. September hog volume also ranked as one of the smallest for that month in 35 years.

September hog slaughter in 1944 was 3,520,588 head, while a total of 2,205,747 head were killed in August this year.

While hog slaughter has been very disappointing during recent months a seasonal increase in marketings is now in the offing. Most of the 51,000,000 head of pigs farrowed this spring are still to be marketed and weights and condition will be considerably better than for last year's crop. Feed supplies have been plentiful and weights will probably average 25 pounds or more above last winter's level.

Hog slaughter during the first nine months of this year totaled only 28,743,418 head, or 47 per cent under the 53,872,814 head killed in the corresponding period last year.

Fortunately for the meat consuming public, slaughter of other classes of livestock has been liberal during the period of light hog kill. Cattle processing during September totaled 1,357,682 head, a new record for the month. Kill during August was 1,292,103 head while in September last year a total of 1,310,310 head was slaughtered. The year-to-date total of 10,429,088 head of cattle is about 500,000 above last year.

Calf slaughter for the month under review was 665,737 head compared with 603,439 a month earlier, and 753,123 head in September, 1944. Sheep and lamb kill for the month was 1,658,084 head, slightly above the previous month but well under the 2,002,641 head killed a year earlier. However, the year-to-date total of 15,623,924 head is only slightly below the 1944 total.

However dull a woman may be, she will understand all there is in love; however intelligent a man may be, he will never know but half of it.—Madam Fee.

Members of the California Scholarship Federation for the fall semester have been announced as follows: 13 points, Wayne Buck, Victor Corsiglia, and Katherine Fuller; 12 points, Claire Botoker, Ann Enderton, Diane Mussat, Doris Raggio, and John Giacomazzi. Richard Suezaki has 11 points. Those with 10 points are Lynne Ekstrand, Myrtle Enyart, Janet Giacomazzi, Jeanette Gomes, Nina Page, Ruby Simmons, and Lois Smith.

An increased enrollment of 72 students is evident at the end of the first school month. Last year, at the end of the first month, the total reached 556, while this year it has climbed to 628.

This increase is partly due to the regulation which allows boys to finish high school, while last year they were forced to enlist in the armed forces when they reached eighteen. Many students have also come back when previously they might have gone to work.

The bonfire rally which was the first of its kind at Campbell was thoroughly enjoyed by all of the attending students. The program consisted of talks by Coaches Hill and Clark, Mr. Dent, and Jack Murdock, selections by the band, and our school pep song and yells.

This rally was made possible by Gloria Speciale, commissioner of social affairs and the bonfire was erected by the custodian, with the help of the boys' gym classes.

Wayne Buck, as commissioner of school affairs, will serve as master of ceremonies at the all-student talent show to be given soon. A wide variety of entertainment will be displayed and the resulting program should be an hour of fun and fancy.

Programs of this type are becoming increasingly popular among the students and it is hoped that everyone will support the idea by reporting any hidden talent to be found among the freshmen and new students.

It is probable that a series of talent shows may be established if the cooperation of entertainers and audiences alike may be obtained.

Everyone has heard music played, but not many have actually seen colored music. Yes, such songs as "Casey Jones' were actually seen and heard in the dark.

This feat took place when Mr. Kenneth Strickfaden put on a demonstration of the principles of everyday wonders on October 25, in the school auditorium.

The most dramatic part of the program was the last when Mr. Strickfaden turned the lights off, and we actually saw one million five hundred volts.

The humor and wit of Mr. Strickfaden added to the program and made it a thoroughly enjoyable evening for those who attended.

The student body netted about $50.00 from this program. The money will be used to purchase an electric score board.

With the election of Bill Hill as class president, the seniors got off to a good start this year. Stan Gould as vice-prseident, Donna Pannekoek as secretary, and Claire Booker as business manager, are the rest of the senior officers.

The sophomores elected Bill Magginetti as their executive officer, and Reg Gazay as vice-president. Betty Hill will write the minutes, while treasurer Dick Fields holds the money. Sergeant-at-arms Chapman will keep order for the sophomores.

Antonio Gutto will preside over the freshman meetings, with Rita Grey at his side as vice-president. Archie Duarte will write the minutes, and Susie Vader will handle the freshman funds.

Red Cross work will be done by members of the California Scholarship Federation this year, it was decided at the last meeting.

At the meeting held two weeks ago, president, vice-president, and secretary for the coming semester were elected. Janet Giacomazzi was appointed historian, a new office.

It was decided that the Federation should meet more often this year and have more activities so that the members could become better acquainted. Meetings are to be held every other Tuesday at noon.

Courtesy was the key-word in the speech made by Dr. De Voss, who spoke to the students in an assembly on Tuesday, Oct. 23.

Dr. De Voss is a professor of psychology at San Jose State College where he has been for the past 23 years. That he does understand students and his subject, "Getting Along Together", was proved by Dr. De Voss in his speech.

The professor spoke about peace, explaining that it must begin with the individual and in the home. An interesting thought was his F. R. O. organization, F. R. O. standing for "Family Raw Orphans". The doctor explained that one of the foremost hindrances to making a good student is quarrels in the home. He stated that many students have decided to try to do their part in the home by avoiding arguments as much as possible.

Dr. De Voss concluded by saying that we in California have received the old Spanish heritage of friendliness and that we should guard it and be proud of it.

Campbell Stores 1895

Among the descriptions of Campbell business men and their establishments in the first issue of the Campbell paper 50 years ago are the following:

"A. Watson, General Merchandise.

"A little over a year ago the above named gentleman came to Campbell from New York State to look for a business location. He evidently found just what he wanted, for a business block was built at once, and a large stock of general merchandise was soon in place and the doors open for trade. Mr. Watson's place of business is situated on the main street of the town, and is one of the best equipped general stores in the county. He deals largely in hay and feed, as well as family supplies of every description. Fancy goods, confections, etc., also occupy a prominent place in this store, and customers are assured of most courteous treatment from those in charge. A delivery wagon is kept for the accommodation of customers and goods delivered to all parts of the surrounding country free of charge.

HARDWARE STORE

Another of our new business houses is the hardware store of Mr. C. H. Whitman which occupies a large room in the Willett Building on the corner of Campbell and Central avenues. Mr. Whitman came to California early in the present year from South Dakota, and after purchasing a fine piece of orchard property on Leigh avenue began to consider the advisability of going into the hardware business in our town. Finding the place in need of just such a business as he proposed to establish, he at once rented a storeroom and soon had his store open for custom. Subsequent events proved that he could not have opened at a more opportune moment. Campbell had taken on a building boom and new houses had become the order of the day. Tinning and plumbing had to be done and Mr. Whitman has not ceased from activity in this line of work since the day his doors opened for business. Besides business in the above lines he deals in glass, paints, oils, gasoline stoves, garden tools, and a full line of shelf and builders' hardware. Being a prectical workman in all branches of the business his customers are never disappointed in their treatment at his hands, and more than this we can say that Mr. Whitman is proving himself to be a most valuable citizen to Campbell, taking an active part in all enterprises for the improvement of the town and the advancement of the community's welfare.

FARMERS' UNION

The Campbell Branch of the Farmers' Union was opened in January of 1894, in the building formerly occupied by Chas. Willett's grocery store on Campbell avenue. As Mr. Willett sold his stock and turned over his custom to the Union a large trade was established at once and it has been increasing steadily. This store carries a large and complete stock of groceries, provisions, etc., ground feed, and, in fact everything in the way of ranch and household supplies. A delivery wagon is kept constantly in use for accommodation of customers. The store is in charge of Mr. S. R. Wade as manager and is conducted in a way that makes it a most pleasant and satisfactory trading place. You are always sure of the best of treatment when trading at the Farmers' Union.

CAMPBELL MEAT MARKET

The Campbell Meat Market has been running under the present management nine or ten months and has given our people the best of service. Mr. Draper, the enterprising proprietor has lately added an order wagon to his already well equipped market, and now has as good an order and delivery system as any city market. His new meat wagon is one of the finest in the county. Patrons of this market are supplied with fresh meat delivered to them every day, and anything better than this could not be desired. A large refrigerator has lately been added with other improvements, and Campbell should be proud of a place where such pains are taken to furnish every possible convenience to the public.

CONFECTIONERY STORE

Miss Lottie Willett has for the past year and a half been conducting a store on Campbell avenue where fine confectionery, stationery and fancy goods can be found. Miss Willett has also the Campbell branch of the Los Gatos Home Bakery and keeps a full line of fancy pastry, bread, pies, etc. Persons wishing anything in the above lines we would recommend to the Post Office Confectionery Store.

SPRUNG'S BLACKSMITH SHOP

The Pioneer Blacksmith Shop of Campbell began business about six years ago and has been the busiest place in Campbell ever since the day of its opening. Mr. Sprung has had a large business in horse shoeing and general repairing and has turned out some of the finest wagon work to be seen on the coast. The new wagon of the Campbell Meat Market will furnish evidence of this satisfactory to any one. Genial and accommodating to the extreme Mr. Sprung has a host of friends in Campbell and vicinity and will continue to have as long as his business continues.

HAIR CUTTING AND SHAVING PARLORS.

One of the late acquisitions to our prosperous village is the Barber Shop of L. Hyman located on Central avenue in the Willett Building. Mr. Hyman is considered to be one of the best workmen in his line on the coast. With an experience of 14 years in San Francisco and later of 5 years in San Mateo he comes to us well recommended, and has shown himself worthy of our patronage. Starting in business here as a total stranger he has, by his courteous and obliging manner made a host of friends in a remarkable short space of time. At no city establishment of this kind will you receive better treatment or get your work done in a more finished or satisfactory manner.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Mortals and Immortals" is the subject of the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon for November 18, with the Golden Text from I Corinthians (15:50, 53), "Flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God; neither doth corruption inherit incorruption . . . For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality."

Included in the sermon are these citations:

John 11:44: "And he that was dead came forth, bound hand and foot with gravecloths: and his face was bound about with a napkin. Jesus saith unto them, Loose him, and let him go."

"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "In the illusion of life that is here to-day and gone to-morrow, man would be wholly mortal, were it not that Love, the divine Principle that obtains in divine Science, destroys all error and brings imrotality to light" (p. 305).

Pundita Circle will meet Wednesday, Nov. 28, at the home of Mrs. George Smith instead of Nov. 21 as previously announced.

Mrs. Ethel Londerback of Orland, President of Adah Rebekah Assembly of California, who will visit the Campbell Lodge Tuesday, Nov. 20.

Facilities for training disabled California war veterans in remunerative trades to make them independent in civilian life are to be installed at the State Veterans Home at Yountville, Napa County, thanks to the generosity of the Odd Fellow and Rebekah lodges of California.

Announcement of the project was made by Irvin R. Snyder of Los Angeles, State Commander of the American Legion, who said approximately half of the $250,000 cost has already been raised and that plans for constructing and equipping an occupational therapy building are being drafted by State Architect Anson Boyd at Sacramento.

Snyder described the project as "the finest possible type of practical assistance to our returning service men" and declared it would benefit a group of veterans who for the most part would not receive occupational training in any other quarter.

He pointed out that veterans participating will receive medical treatment at the same time and after recovery "will be able to return to their home communities fully prepared for self-supporting, useful civilian life."

Snyder called attention to the fact that a 10-year prior residence is required for membership in the State Home, under present law, and that the occupational training in the immediate post-war period will thus be available only to World War II veterans who were citizens of California before entering the service.

"However," he continued, "I am told that the training will continue at least until 1950, which means that new residents of the State can ultimately take advantage of it."

Trades to be taught in the Home, the Legion Commander said, will include automotive and airplane mechanics, carpentry, sheet metal work, electrical and radio, plumbing, painting and spraying, welding, lathe work and general mechanics, shoe making and repairing, woodworking and mill cabinet work, tailoring and cleaning and pressing, bookbinding and printing, and pottery.

Lt.-- Commander Yale Maxon, son of Mrs. R. Y. Maxon, San Jose-Los Gatos road, has recently arrived in Japan where he expects to be stationed for some time. Commander Maxon has been in the Navy shortly before Pearl Harbor. His wife and two children, David and Mary Jo, reside in Honolulu.

"Laughter on the Hill," by Margaret Parton.

Some biographies of little known people are usually not too interesting but Margaret Parton has written of an interlude in her life and this reader found it enjoyable.

The book is most sophisticated in places and if one has never really met "characters" some of the incidents seem impossible. But, if you have enjoyed Fisherman's Wharf, witnessed the view from Coit Tower, done the schottische at the William Tell Hotel here is a chance to have it redescribed. Margaret Parton experienced all of this, lived on Telegraph Hill and learned to love California as had her father.

She came to San Francsico on a freighter from New York and some of the crew constituted her first friends. Other acquaintances numbered dowager, painters, authors, and ordinary people mainly interested in just living.

After thoroughly enjoying as much scenery and friendship as her allowance would warrant she did some reporting. Other short jobs had helped along the way and must have added to her present success as a New York reporter.

Here is a story which will captivate you with its odd people and strange situations.

"The worst bankrupt in the world is the man who has lost his enthusiasm. Let a man lose everything else in the world but his enthusiasm and he will come through again to success."—H. W. Arnold.
